

Module 04: The End of Optimism? The Great Depression in Europe

Evidence 5: Photograph of Berlin's Slump Centre

Introduction

No fewer than a 100,000 unemployed workers drew the dole each week at the Neukölln unemployment office in Berlin.

Document

Source:

H. Tiltman, Slump! A Study of Stricken Europe Today (1932: Jarrolds Publisher London Limited).