

Module 05: 1968 — A Generation in Revolt?

Evidence 30: Photograph of Demonstrators

Introduction

The photo below was taken on Wednesday, August 28, 1968, as the demonstrators converged around the Poor People's Campaign mule train and approached Michigan Avenue.

Document

Source:

Daniel Walker, "How the City Prepared," Rights in Conflict: Chicago's 7 Brutal Days, a report submitted by Daniel Walker, Director of the Chicago Study Team, to the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence (New York: Grosset & Dunlap, Publishers, 1968), A-51.